SECRETARIAT WORK PLAN AND BUDGET FY17: JULY 1, 2016 – JUNE 30, 2017

For Decision

1. STRATEGIC PURPOSE

1.1 The purpose of this paper is to seek approval from the Board of Directors (the “Board”) for the Global Partnership for Education (“GPE”) Secretariat work plan and budget for the 12-month period July 1, 2016, to June 30, 2017.

2. EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

2.1 The budget request for FY17 responds to the need for increased investment to sufficiently implement a strengthened operational model, at a time when the volume of grant applications is expected to significantly increase from FY16 (from four to potentially more than 20). The budget request should be viewed as an initial down payment toward delivery of the strategic plan (GPE 2020) objectives, through investments in specific areas identified by the Board in late 2015, and for consideration in June based on recommendations from the Strategy and Policy Committee. These areas include implementation of the monitoring and evaluation strategy (M&E), knowledge and good practice exchange strategy, and the gender policy and action plan. As in prior years before a replenishment, surge funding is requested to cope with the significant additional work and costs a replenishment brings.

2.2 The budget does not address the potential implications on Secretariat resources and capacity that may arise from the options that the Strategic Financing Working Group will present in November 2016, including the issue of potentially hosting Education Cannot Wait (ECW), formerly the Education in Emergencies and Protracted Crises platform (EiEPC). An external firm will be commissioned to analyse this area and also evaluate the impact of the 2014 organizational reforms and will report to the Board in November.

2.3 For FY17, the Secretariat proposes a request for a core 12-month budget of US$22,566,000. This is an increase of 8.3 percent from the previous fiscal year. This amount includes US$700,000 for two DCP meetings, which starting FY17 is part of the core budget as agreed to by the Board in December 2015. Key reasons for increases relate to a significant increase in the volume of grant work for a more intensive operational model, plus normal salary inflation and the addition of three technical staff.

2.4 The Secretariat requests US$1,967,000 in supplemental budget for additional investment arising from key decisions that the Board may make in June: replenishment surge (July 1 – December 31, 2016), US$594,000; M&E, US$745,000 (low-resource scenario); strengthened national capacity in sector planning, domestic financing dialogue and results-based approach (funding model implementation) through investments in knowledge and good practice exchange, US$480,000; and gender action plan, US$148,000 (low-resource scenario). These last three items relate to SPC-recommended strategies (BOD/2016/06 DOC 16, DOC 17, and DOC 20) and, depending on the decisions of the Board, the budget may need to be adjusted. Further information on replenishment timing is outlined in the strategic financing paper (BOD/2016/06 DOC 15).

2.5 A request to roll over US$400,000 of savings from FY16 to FY17 was submitted to the Board for no-objection decision (BOD/2016/05 DOC 02) to hire an external firm to support the Strategic Financing Working Group, whose work may be expanded to incorporate Education Cannot Wait.

2.6 The budget was prepared in a manner that continues implementation of the recommendations from the 2014 organizational review. In particular, GPE has aligned its functions and objectives with the Strategic Plan, with a particular emphasis on country advisory and support activities which span multiple functions and accounts for 43% of the overall funding request.

2.7 In FY17, three new staff positions are requested in response to a significant increase in the volume of work and to respond to the more intensive engagement required as part of the operational model reforms in supporting countries applying for funds and implementing the funding model. These positions will also support implementation of the M&E strategy, support national capacity development through technical assistance and knowledge and good practice exchange activities, and further refine technical guidance. In addition, three temporary positions (12-month period) are requested to support work under the replenishment surge.

2.8 The budget was prepared using a top-down, bottom-up process, with subsequent GERF input.

2.9 For FY16, the Secretariat anticipates an expenditure burn rate of 98 percent, with savings of approximately US$500,000 primarily related to staff savings from turnover and delays in recruitment.

2.10 The Secretariat continues to strive for efficiency gains in all its expenditures.
3. REQUESTED DECISION

3.1 The Secretariat requests that the Board of Directors approve the following decision:

BOD/2016/06-XX – Secretariat Work Plan and Budget: July 2016 – June 2017: The Board of Directors:

1. Approves the core 12-month budget of the Secretariat of up to US$22,566,000 for the period July 1, 2016 – June 30, 2017.

2. Approves a supplemental amount of:
   a. US$594,000 for replenishment surge activities between July 1, 2016 – December 31, 2016; and for three term-limited positions to support the replenishment in FY17.
   b. US$745,000 to support implementation of the monitoring and evaluation (M&E) strategy, which includes country evaluations, publication of results reporting, and investments in IT to support the development of a secure repository for data collected as part of our monitoring and reporting framework, as well as a publicly accessible database that supports data visualization.
   c. US$480,000 for knowledge and good practice exchange strategy, which includes capacity-building activities with developing country partners, as well as the creation of guidance and tools to support stronger sector planning and policy dialogue in core areas of the strategic plan (learning, equity, systems and financing).
   d. US$148,000 to implement a gender action plan.

4. BACKGROUND

4.1 The GPE Fund governance document requires that the budget be approved on an annual basis. Similar to FY16, the Secretariat budget will follow a July 1 – June 30 fiscal year, which is aligned with the World Bank Group’s fiscal year and will be consistent with fiscal year accounting and reporting requirements, policies, procedures and systems.

4.2 For FY17, the Secretariat has adopted a top-down, bottom-up approach in formulation of its budget. The Leadership Team (LT) has identified and set FY17 key objectives and priorities, which are aligned with the new Strategic Plan 2016–2020, or GPE 2020 (Annex 1). Based on LT guidance, the individual teams have used a bottom-up approach to project staff costs and associated variable costs for each activity, objective and function. The LT conducted multiple reviews to refine the budget, aligning it with priorities to ensure efficiency and cost-effectiveness.
4.3 The GERF provided valuable input on the budget at its May 3-5 meeting which the Secretariat has incorporated in this document.

To be financed from FY16 savings rolled over to FY17, subject to Board approval on May 27

5.2 The FY17 core budget of US$22,566,000 represents growth of 8.3 percent compared to the last fiscal year. The increase in staff costs is attributed to a combination of normal salary inflation in line with projected World Bank remuneration levels, and a request for three additional technical staff arising from a significant increase in the volume of grant work and to respond to the more intensive engagement required as part of the operational model reforms in supporting countries applying for funds and implementing the funding model. These positions will also support implementation of the M&E strategy (M&E), support national capacity development through technical assistance and knowledge and good practice exchange activities, and further refine technical guidance.

5.3 The increase in variable costs is due to a combination of factors, but primarily relates to additional anticipated travel and consultant costs to conduct quality assurance reviews; this is due to the increased volume of ESPIG applications combined with a strengthened operational model. More than 20 grant applications are anticipated in FY17, compared to four received in FY16. The volume of applications also drives up translation costs.
5.4 The costs of Board and committee meetings (including translation, interpretation, and travel for developing country partners and venue costs) were underestimated in FY16, and funds had to be redeployed from savings to cover the costs. FY17 is budgeted based on actuals for FY16 and is more in line with FY15 levels.

5.5 The Secretariat also proposes to make minor investments in FY17 in its knowledge management information systems and through standardizing business processes, in light of the significant growth in the grant portfolio and changes in the operational model over the past number of years. Once implemented, these investments will improve efficiency in the Secretariat.

5.6 The Strategy, Policy and Performance team was building in FY16, but it is now close to capacity and will be fully operational in FY17. This will result in an increase in travel and consultancy costs as the team delivers on its ambitious work plan to help implement GPE 2020 and report on results.

5.7 While the fixed-cost budget for FY17 has been reduced, this is related primarily to a small reduction in the rent for the Secretariat (new location since January 2016), as a tenant improvement allowance (TIA) was provided by the landlord but not fully utilized. The Secretariat negotiated the TIA savings to be applied to reduce rent costs in both FY16 and FY17. This is a one-time benefit, and rent costs will increase again in FY18.

(b) FY17 Supplemental Budget

5.8 Table 2 reflects the additional financial investment in FY17 for key priorities identified by the Secretariat.

5.9 As in prior years, preparing for the next replenishment requires additional time-limited investment. A preliminary surge budget of US$594,000 is requested, which will cover three temporary positions for the full fiscal year and variable costs for the July 2016 – December 2016 period. The variable costs are for initial planning work, reporting on the existing pledging framework.
(including monitoring domestic financing pledges), and material preparation (including photo and video products). In December, a budget for calendar year 2017 replenishment activities will be presented to cover remaining replenishment costs.

5.10 Over the course of FY17, GPE will finalize its results framework and deliver its first comprehensive results report on its new strategic plan. It will also launch an evaluation strategy that will enable it to assess the effectiveness of its work and share lessons and good practice across the partnership. The M&E strategy budget request of US$745,000 is based on the low-resource scenario outlined in the M&E strategy paper (BOD/2016/06 DOC 20), and includes costs for an evaluation strategy to complete county-level evaluations; publication of an annual results report; investments in information technology to support development of a system to securely store the data from the results framework and monitoring activities; the integration of existing systems with the GPE website, and improved data visualizing to show country information and results; and additional funds to support implementation of these deliverables and monitor the results framework. The ability for GPE to report on results in an effective manner has been identified as critical to its success, and therefore investment in this area was deemed essential. The high-resource scenario is US$60,000 higher and includes funds for thematic evaluations, which are absent in the low-resource scenario.

5.11 The technical anchor team supports GPE’s country-facing activities through technical assistance, creation of tools, guidelines, and technical products that are used to support national capacity development, and exchange of knowledge and good practice. In FY17, US$480,000 is requested for further development of guidance and tools related to the new funding model, dissemination of quality standards for sector planning and joint sector reviews, and inclusive education. Regional workshops will be used to strengthen national capacity development in these areas and promote exchange of good practice among countries implementing the funding model, using tools and methodologies for benchmarking good practice developed as part of the results framework. A particular focus will be on sharing experiences of results-based financing. One of the planned events will also bring together ministers of education and ministers of finance around the issue of mobilizing domestic financing in challenged countries.

5.12 GPE plans to implement the gender equality policy and strategy, which includes further rollout of tools developed in collaboration with UNGEI to support gender-responsive sector planning, and guidance to support an improved focus on gender equality in GPE funding applications. A budget of US$148,000 is included in this request; this is a low-resource scenario, however, and the final amount may require adjustment based on the Board’s consideration of this topic arising from the recommendations of the Strategy and Policy Committee (BOD/2016/06 DOC 17).

5.13 In addition to the supplemental budget requests, the Board was requested to roll over US$400,000 of saving from FY16 to FY17 to hire an external consulting firm to support the continuing work of the Strategic Financing Working Group. Further details are outlined in BOD/2016/06 DOC 15.

5.14 Continuing with the recommendations of organizational review, GPE has aligned its functions and objectives with the strategic plan. Annex 1 shows these 11 functions, objectives and the key activities within these areas. As country technical and advisory work spans multiple functions and objectives, the chart on the next page represents the overall budgeted allocation by broader categories, with 43 percent allocated to this area. This is a significant increase from prior to the organizational review, when only 28 percent of funds were estimated to be allocated to this area.

6. ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

Efficiency Gains

6.1 Consistent with past years, the Secretariat continues to strive for efficiency gains in all its expenditures. The travel policy remains more restrictive on class of airfare than the World Bank standard policy, and missions are combined whenever possible. Travel is planned in advance as far as possible, thus enabling staff to avail themselves of lower fare options. In FY17, the location of DCP meetings and Board meetings (if in a DCP country) will be in the same city to reduce travel costs. The increased use of WebEx technology and simultaneous interpretation for conference calls has also reduced the need for travel and face-to-face meetings.

6.2 Internal reorganization of the Secretariat has freed up two positions that have been redeployed to allow recruitment of a senior finance officer to support the strategic finance work and a senior Board operations officer to lead an integrated Board and Constituency Services team. Both positions are expected to be filled by July.

6.3 The Secretariat continues to fully implement cost-saving actions applied throughout the World Bank Group (WBG), including strengthened controls to achieve savings on the level of fees paid to consultants. These efforts have resulted in significant reductions in the Secretariat in the average daily rate for consultants compared to prior years, and the Secretariat management monitors this area closely.

Benchmarking

6.4 The Secretariat’s FY17 operating expenses as a percentage of total projected expenditure is at 4.8 percent and continues to be low when compared to comparable organizations.

6.5 While direct comparison is challenging as other organizations have different business models and are in different stages of organizational development, it would be useful to note that GPE’s Secretariat is still in a development phase where it is continuing to put in place essential building blocks that are critical to its success (e.g., strengthened operational model, results framework, and corresponding M&E strategy, with associated requirements in information systems, as well as enhanced quality assurance procedures). It is operating with a far smaller headcount and overall operating expenses budget compared to some of the major health funds, meaning that natural economies of scale achieved through size are not available to GPE to the same extent.

Staffing

6.6 In December 2014, based on the organizational review recommendation, the Board approved 14 additional positions to catch up with the demands of the work program of the Secretariat, bringing the approved headcount to 78 staff. As of now, the Secretariat is operating at near-full capacity with only one of the 14 new approved positions to be filled.

6.7 At present, only 12 percent of staff have open-ended employment contracts, with the remainder on two- to three-year fixed-term renewable contacts. These term positions allow flexibility for the Board to increase headcount when necessary over the short to medium term, and if needed to downsize in an orderly manner to limit the financial impact on GPE.

6.8 For FY17, the Secretariat proposes an increase of six positions (which includes three temporary positions under replenishment surge), bringing the approved headcount to 84 staff. The external firm supporting the Strategic Financing Working Group will consider the operational implications for Secretariat capacity of the various options that may arise from this work, including potential hosting of Education Cannot Wait.
7. STATUS OF FY16 BUDGET AND FORECAST

7.1 In FY16, US$21,255,310 was approved by the Board for both core and supplemental activities of the Secretariat. This includes US$700,000 approved for DCP meetings. As of the end of March, actual expenses totaled US$13,696,756 or 64 percent of the total budget. With a projection of US$7,050,000 to be spent in the last quarter of FY16, the utilization rate is projected to be 98 percent and the Secretariat anticipates savings of US$500,000. Table 4 below shows actual expenses by fixed and variable costs categories, as well as supplemental activities through March 31, 2016, and projections through the end of FY16.

7.2 The primary reason for savings stems from staff costs and is due to recruitment delays, staff turnover and other efficiency gains. Some savings are anticipated under rent as a result of rent abatement by the landlord in FY16. In addition. US$100,000 of savings pertains to the supplemental budget approved for WBG indirect costs, for which GPE was subsequently exempted; these funds will be returned to the trustee. To ensure that it could deliver on its objectives for FY16 while encountering delays in staff hiring, the Secretariat was heavily reliant on the use of short-term consultants. Combined with an underestimation in the costs of servicing the Board and committees in FY16, the Secretariat reprogrammed savings from staff costs to the variable budget. This accounts for the significantly higher variable expenditure compared to the original budget.

7.3 In FY17, the Secretariat has factored in a discount on staffing costs in anticipation of a certain level of staff turnover or delays in recruitment, and has reverted the level of funding for the Board... and committee costs back to near-FY15 levels, which better reflects actual expenditure in FY16 and projections for FY17.

7.4 All funds that are not spent by the end of GPE’s fiscal year, and for which a specific authority from the Board exists to carry over funds into the next fiscal year, are returned to the Trustee.
